

He'll Come and Tarry Not

Thomas D. W. Muir (1855-1931)

William James Kirkpatrick (1838-1921)

1. O child of God, there is for thee A hope that shines a - mid the gloom, A
 2. When in this world His hands had made, No room was found for Je - sus then; The
 3. Ex - alt - ed now to Heav - en's throne, The Sav - ior there of sin - ful men; His
 4. O child of God, thy lot may be Oft mixed with tri - al, grief and pain; Look
 5. Then joy un - min - gled will be thine, Earth's tears and tri - als all for - got; So glad - some hope that thou shalt see Thy Lord, for He will sure - ly come. mount - ain - side was oft His bed; Now, glor - i - fied, He comes a - gain. He'll lov - ing heart yearns o'er His own, And for them He will come a - gain.

 up, He'll sure - ly come for thee; He says, "I'll quick - ly come a - gain."
 cheer thy heart, no more re - pine, His word is sure: "He'll tar - ry not."

come, yes, He'll come and tar-ry not; He'll come, yes, He'll come and tar-ry not; He'll yes, He'll come, yes, He'll come come, He'll come, He'll come and tar-ry not.

 yes, He'll come, yes, He'll come and tar-ry not.

