

Life's Railway

William Owen Jones, 1922

$\text{♩} = 102$

1. You are travel-ing on a rail-way, Wind-ing through this maze of
 2. Curves will meet you as you jour-ney, You will meet with wrecks of
 3. Wind and rain some days will hin-der, Skies will dark-en, sick-ness
 4. You will cross the bridge of mer-cy And the ri-ver of de-life, Climb-ing up the hills of tri-al, In-to vales of sin and time; You will cross the bridge of sad-ness, You will reach some heights sub-come; You will want to tra-vel free-ly To a friend or heav'n-ly

 - light, You will climb the hills su-per-nal, You shall gain the hills of

- strife; But there's one who knows the jour-ney, He can sure-ly take you lime. Ne-ver fear, for Christ is with you, And He knows the way so home; Put your trust in Christ the Sav-ior, Well He knows this line and light; Soon the home so free-ly giv-en Will be seen on "glo-ry's through; Je-sus knows the way to glo-ry, He will safe-ly car-ry plain; Keep your eye on your dear Sav-ior, He will ban-ish fear and rail; He will ne-ver leave you lone-ly For His love will ne-ver shore"; You have reached the heav'n-ly sta-tion, Ne'er to leave for-ev-er-rit.

Refrain

you.
pain. Je - sus, Sav - ior, bless - èd Keep - er, Guide us on to Heav'n a-fail.
- more.

- bove; Where the saints through-out the ag-es Will u - nite in songs of love.