

Dearer Than Heaven

Mary Elizabeth Servoss, 1880

Adam Geibel

♩=90

1. It may be He'll come in the morn-ing, When the sun-beams are greet-ing the flowers; And the
2. It may be He'll come in the noon-time, When the spir-it is bur - dened with care; And the
3. It may be He'll come in the even-ing, When the sun has gone down in the west, When the
4. It may be He'll come at life's mid - night, When the wea-ry soul longs for its rest, And the heart is o'er - flow - ing with glad-ness, That thrills through life's ear - li - er hours.

souls that should al - ways be wait-ing, For - get for the Lord to pre - pare. And toil - er has ceased from his la - bor, And song birds are seek - ing their nest.
years, once so joy - ous and hap - py, With seed - time and har - vest have blest.

so I will strive to be rea-dy, For His com-ing, when-e'er it may be, For His wel-com-ing smile of ap-

- prov-al Will be dear-er than Hea-ven to me. For His wel-com-ing smile of ap - prov-al Will be dear-er than Hea-ven to me.

