

Have You Seen the Star?

W. R. Chambers, 1904

W. R. Chambers

♩=100

1. Have you seen the Star that shines to guide the travel-er on, As he
2. O the wise men from a - far did come to see the sight, And the
3. Bro - ther, don't fold up your hands and stand in dark - ness here, When you
4. Don't grow wea - ry then, my bro - ther, with the ills of life, Ne - ver jour-neys, home-sick with his hea - vy load of care? It will guide him safe-ly o - ver shep-herds sang for joy that bright and hap-py morn; Yes, the wise men did re-joice that have a guide that will not let you go a - stray; Je - sus is the Star to lead you get dis - cour - aged as this earth - ly race you run; Just be pa - tient for a - while, and to that hap - py home, Where the saints of all ag - es are calm and peace - ful night, When they knew that the prom - ised Mesto a home so dear; He will guide, safe - ly guide to the then will end the strife, And the Lord then will glad - den you sweet - ly rest - ing there.

- si - ah had been born.
land of end - less day. O this bright Star for - ev - er shall with the words, "Well done." O this bright Star

Refrain

shine,                      Though for a      while                      earth's storms may as-for-ev-er shall shine,                      Though for a while earth's storms may as-

- sail;                      Hea-ven's sweet home                      at last shall be
- sail, earth's storms may as-sail;                      Hea-ven's sweet home at last shall be thine;                      Ju - dah's bright Star                      o'er all shall prethine, at last shall be thine,                      Ju - dah's bright Star o'er all shall pre-

- vail.
- vail, o'er all shall pre-vail.