

Every One That Thirsteth

William Thomas Giffe, 1888

William Thomas Giffe

$\text{♩} = 95$

1. Ho! ev - ery one that thirst-eth, come and drink, For the crys-tal tide is flow - ing free to-
2. Ho! ev - ery one that thirst-eth, come and drink; There is heal-ing in the stream for all who
3. Ho! ev - ery one that thirst-eth, come and drink; Drink the sac - red tide be-fore you turn a-

- day; There is par - don in the fount - ain of His love; Drink ye come; Won - der - ful its power to cleanse from ev - ery ill; Je - sus
- way; From the fount - ain of the Sav - ior's lov - ing heart, It is

Refrain

free - ly of it while you may. Come and drink the pre - cious speaks the word, and it is done.
of - fered free to all to - day. Come and drink the tide, Flow - ing free - ly from the Mas - ter's love; Come and pre - cious tide, Come and drink, drink, come and drink; Drink the life that com-eth from a - bove.

Come and drink, Come and drink,