

Thy Hope for Eternity

Frances Jane (Fanny) Crosby, 1882

John Robson Sweney

♩=90

1. O, what is thy hope for the fu-ture, And what of thy - self canst thou say? Art thou
 2. O, what is thy hope for the fu-ture? 'Tis time thou shouldst think of thy soul, When the
 3. Say, what is thy hope for the fu-ture, And where is thy ha-ven? O where? Art thou com - ing re - pent - ant to Je - sus, Or griev - ing the Spir - it a - way? Art thou mo - ments like ar - rows are fly - ing, And the years, oh how swift - ly they roll. Art thou near - ing the har - bor of glo - ry, Or near - ing the brink of des - pair? While the build - ing a house that will per - ish, Or one that for - ev - er will stand? Re - mem - ber the fate of the stor - ing the les - sons of wis - dom, So pa - tient - ly taught by thy Lord? Or care - less - ly tread - ing be - Sav - ior still waits to be gra - cious, Make haste, and His par - don im - plore; Make haste, or the mer - cy that fool - ish man That trust - ed the sink - ing sand.

Refrain

 - neath thy feet The pearls of His pre - cious Word? The blood of the cru - ci - fied Sav - ior Was warns thee now, Will plead with thy soul no more.

shed on the cross for thee; But what is thy hope for the fu-ture, Thy hope for e-ter-ni - ty?