

The Wherefore and the Why

Ruth Inge Bjork, 1910

Zella M. Hall, 1920

$\text{♩} = 92$

1. What a bless - èd thing to know, As thro' life we on - ward go, That some
 2. If we've strug - gled on in vain, And we've suf - ered un - told pain, Mak - ing
 3. Tho' our loved ones have gone home, Leav - ing us here all a - lone, And we
 4. Ah, our heav'n - ly Fa - ther knows Ev - ery lit - tle wind that blows, And He day we'll know the where - fore and the why; God will life seem al - most more - than we the can bear; Tho' our feel that we, too, will - ing - ly would die; We may knows just what is best for you and I; H - e wipe a - way all tears, Ban - ish all our doubts and fears, When we hearts are brok - en now, When be - fore God's throne we bow, We shall think God is un - just, But when we are "dust to dust," We shall sees the spar - row fall, He will guide us safe thro' all, And some go to dwell with Je - sus by and by.

 know the why and where - fore o - ver there.
 un - der - stand the where - fore and the why.
 day we'll know the where - fore and the why.