

Spread the Tidings All Abroad

Harriet E. Rice Jones, 1894

James Henry Fillmore, Sr.

♩=105

1. Spread the tid-ings all a - broad, Je - sus lives, Je - sus
 2. Let the na - tions now re - joice, Je - sus lives, Je - sus
 He lives, He lives, Je - sus lives, lives; Glo - ry, glo - ry be to God, Je - sus lives, Je - sus lives.

 lives; Praise Him with a joy - ful voice, Je - sus lives, Je - sus lives.
 Je - sus lives He lives, He lives, Je - sus lives.

In the cold grave, where He lay, Come and Hea - ven's gates are op - ened wide, O - pened
 Come and see, oh, O - pened wide the

see, come and see; An - gels sit in bright ar - wide, o - pened wide; We shall en - ter glo - ri - come and see, oh, come and see,
 gates, the gates are o - pened wide,

- ray,                    Come and see,                    come and see.                    Spread the                    tid-ings all a-
 - fied,                    Glo - ri - fied,                    glo - ri - fied.                    Let the                    na-tions now re-Come and see, oh,                    come, oh come and                    see.
                                   Glo - ri - fied, shall                    en - ter glo - ri -                    fied.

- broad,                    Je - sus lives,                    Je - sus lives;                    Glo - ry,                    glo - ry be to
 - joice,                    Je - sus lives,                    Je - sus lives;                    Praise Him                    with a joy-ful
                                   He lives, He                    lives, Je - sus lives,                    Je - sus lives,

God,                    Je - sus lives,                    Je - sus lives.
 voice,                    Je - sus lives,                    Je - sus lives.
                                   He lives, He                    lives, Je - sus lives, Je - sus lives.