

Have You Nothing to Do?

J. H. Ralson, 1893

William James Kirkpatrick

♩=90

1. Have you no - thing to do? in this world of ours, When
 2. Have you no - thing to do? there are minds to teach The
 3. Have you no - thing to do? there are prayers to pray On the
 4. Have you no - thing to do? there are lambs to feed, The
 5. Have you no - thing to do? O Chris - tian soul, Why weeds spring up with the fairest flowers, Where smiles have oft but a sim - plest lang - uage of Christian speech; There are souls to win with your altar, as in - cense by night and day; There are foes to bat - tle, with - pre - cious hope of the church's need, And strength to be borne to the wrap thee round in thy selfish stole? Fling off thy gar - ments of fit - ful play, Where hearts are break - ing ev - ery day.

Refrain

 lov - ing wife, From the low - est haunts of sin's de - file.
 - in, with - out, And errors to conquer though strong and stout. Plen - ty to do!
 weak and faint, And vigils to keep with the suf - fering saint.
 sloth and sin, For Christ, thy Lord, hath a world to win.

plen - ty to do! O my bro - ther, there's la - bor for you.